PMI's communities of practice are new and growing places for PMI members to meet online, discuss ideas and build the body of knowledge. Collaborate with peers worldwide to find solutions that meet your needs and advance the profession. Interact through wikis, webinars, discussions and blogs. Use shared documents, surveys, announcements, a member directory and popular links. All of these tools are at your disposal at no extra charge for a limited time. PMI members can participate in as many communities as you'd like. The more you get involved, the more you'll enjoy your PMI membership.
